Crossing the centuries in Chiang Mai

Inspired by Chiang Mai's iconic Wat Umong—a forest temple known for its unique tunnels and meditation spaces—and also referencing Chiang Mai's ancient walled city, X2 Chiang Mai Riverside Resort offers guests a unique experience that salutes the past while being undeniably modern. Built on the site of an old rice winery, the hotel has preserved many of the natural features of the original estate, which include a dramatic row of 120-year-old tamarind trees that add to the hotel's unique character. Guests will have a choice of stylish rooms and suites ranging from 50 to 177.5 sqm in size, each decorated with red brick walls to reflect the Lanna architectural influence. Dine at the Oxygen Dining Room, the first restaurant in Chiang Mai to boast consultation from a Michelin-starred chef, Nicolas Isnard.
