France famous for its wine culture, quality produce and delicious cuisine, Burgundy is high on any serious foodie's travel destination list. Fortunately for us, Burgundy is coming to town with a month-long culinary celebration RED SKY and RED SKY at Centara Grand at CentralWorld. For 55 Baht per person, the five-course menu includes dishes such as the Gras Terrine (with Concord grape and fine cornichons), Fricassée d'Escargots (served in wild mushroom and parsley cream), Charolles Veal Stew (with pearl onion and caramelised pearl onion), Brillat Savarin from Burgundy (infused with Marc de Bourgogne brandy) and served with crème praliné and roasted walnuts).

ORGANIC ENDEAVOURS

A new menu that features organic ingredients direct from Italy, as well as a larger selection of family-style dishes to enhance the shared dining experience have been introduced at Italian restaurant JOJO, The St. Regis Bangkok. At the helm is executive sous chef Carlo Valenziano, who has been dazzling diners with his special flair. All new menu items adhere to Italy's Presidio Slow Food principles, which ensure that the production of the ingredients and food is marked by respect for ethnic culinary tradition and environmental sustainability. Many premium Italian cold cuts are introduced for the first time in Thailand, such as 24-month Parma ham, Riserva, Culatello di Zibello, Salami di Felino and Moncetta Piemontese. Don't miss the signature dish: Kurobuta pork cooked in milk and herbs.

PEACE & QUIET

Opened in July last year, X2 RIVER KWAI in sleepy Kanchanaburi is located along the banks of the most beautiful stretch of the Kwai Noi River, against a spectacular backdrop of mountain ranges and blue sky. Consisting of only eight rooms – each offering panoramic river views – the resort is under two hours from Bangkok, making it ideal for a peaceful break. An additional 18 rooms will be added this year.
